

NEIL BERRY

BUDGET COMMITTEE

Hello, my name is Neil Berry and I am running for a third term on the budget committee. I've lived in Durham for forty one years and will likely die here unless taxes drive us out! I've been married forty nine years and seven months, have two children and 5 grandchildren. I am a US Army veteran mostly with the 199th Light Infantry. In 2018 I retired from a forty year career in automation hardware and software sales and sales management to industry and utilities in Maine and New Hampshire.

I am a current member of the Appeals Board and Union Church Committee. Some points of interest that motivate how I approach Durham's spending are:

- I believe passing on trillions of dollars of debt to our children and grandchildren is greedy and immoral.
- Americans have a spending problem.
- Next to the wonders of socialism and collectivist thinking, anthropogenic climate change is the biggest and most costly hoax ever foisted on humankind.
- God is in control so we can relax a little bit.

Thank you,
Neil Berry
